BUCKEYE AVE. SITE FAVORED

Board Seeks To Acquire Ground For New Grade School Building

It seemed probable today that the new eight-room elementary school building in Salem would be located at the end of Buckeye ave., near the place where 12th st. would intersect from N. Ellsworth ave.

Although official action on the proposed site has not been taken by the board of education, it appeared that the board's real estate committee and the board favored recommendation of that site for the erection of the new building after a meeting Tuesday afternoon with Supt. E. S. Kerr and Architect Paul Bouchelle of Youngstown.

Building Plans

It seemed likely that the site would be acquired for the construction of an eight-room building, complete with gymnasium-auditorium and facilities for kindergarten and lunch room, on a plot about 350 x 450 feet at the end of Buckeye ave.

The exact location has not been determined, but land under consideration is owned by Herman Stratton and Joel Cobbs, a board spokesman said.

The new school building is a part of a $750,000 grade school expansion program approved by voters in the form of a bond issue at the November election.

An eight-room addition to Reilly school and the new building are the first projects to be carried out. The board also plans additions and improvements to Fourth Street, Prospect and McKinley schools.

Truman, 'Big Six' Leaders To Meet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—President Truman will hold his first bipartisan legislative conference with the new congressional "Big Six" tomorrow.

The White House announced today that four Republican congressional leaders would come to the White House at 10 a. m. tomorrow together with the Democratic minority leaders, Senator Barkley (Ky.) and Rep. Rayburn (Tex.).

Rayburn yesterday told of the President's decision to hold periodic legislative conferences with the leaders of the Republican congressional majority as well as the Democratic chiefs.

Senator Vandenberg (Mich.), the president pro tempore of the senate; Senate Majority Leader White (Me); Speaker Martin (Mass.) and House Majority Leader Hallett (Ind.) will sit in on the conferences.

Stark County War Hero Pardoned By Lausche

COLUMBUS, Jan. 15.—Gov. Frank J. Lausche, in one of his final official actions before leaving office, commuted the one to 20 year reformatory sentence of Mike Koury, Stark county war hero, to expire at once, it was learned today.

Koury, sentenced in 1942 for burglary, walked away from the Mansfield reformatory honor camp and enlisted in the army. As a paratrooper he distinguished himself in combat and was seriously wounded.

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED FOR '47 MODEL CARS

Aim Is Better Driving Comfort; Production Costs Still Vague

(By Associated Press) DETROIT, Jan. 15.—Increasing production costs may keep a lot of engineering advances out of the automobile industry's 1947 models but many improvements aimed at greater driving comfort are in the making for future use.

High prices reportedly already are discouraging many buyers and it is unlikely that any of the major engineering advances will appear before 1948 or even later. But, once volume output and distribution are assured, the industry may be able to recast its entire pricing structure and incorporate many of the changes to attract even more buyers.

Here are a few of the things to come:

An improved heating and air conditioning system, coupled with a device that will keep the engine always warm, even when the car is parked out-of-doors for hours.

A longer-life battery that will be kept constantly at full charge. More automatic transmissions.

Greater Use of Plastics

Greater use of plastics for interior trim and other non-stressed parts.

Wider front seats.

Better all-around visibility through more window area.

These items are not part of a future "dream car," but things that are virtually ready now for installation in the present-day automobile, held back chiefly by the factor of production costs.

With the pre-war low-price cars selling in what formerly was the middle-price bracket and all other models correspondingly higher, the industry heads are trying to avoid anything that will further advance retail prices.

This is particularly true in the erstwhile low-price field that normally represents about three-fourths of the motorcar industry's production and distribution.

Prices Dependent On Costs

Until new wage contracts have been written the car makers will have hardly an approximate idea of 1947 production costs.

They do know that the retail price increases implemented during the last six months already have resulted in some softening of demand, even if unfilled orders are in greater volume than they were a year ago.

Probably the most expensive of the items listed for incorporation in the post-war car is the automatic transmission. On the basis of present production costs it is incorporated in the current Oldsmobile models for around $150 as optional equipment.

Still on the basis of present manufacturing costs the other articles are not expected to come anywhere near that figure. Yet the industry heads, who assert they lost money on most of the passenger cars produced last year, say nothing can be added in the way of new equipment without further stepping up retail prices.

Many other things are contemplated by the industry that more properly come under the description of long-range planning. They include such advances as improved streamlining, still wider bodies, lower overall height, more aluminum castings, smaller engine blocks, better fuel distribution to the cylinders and increased compression ratios.

U. S. To Sell Canol Pipe Line For Junk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Secretary of State Byrnes disclosed today that Canada had agreed to let the United States junk a $133,000,000 wartime white elephant—the Canol oil refinery and pipe line project.

The Senate was investigating committee denounced the enterprise in a report last fall as a "flaming waste." The committee said the action of Admiral Ernest J. King and General Brehon Somervell of the joint staff in persisting with the project was a "blot on the record of two otherwise able officers."

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 15.—Gilbert Durand, a 38-year-old baker, his wife and their four young children are off on a pioneering trip the modern way—to their homestead in Alaska by bus.

Council Passes Fund Bill, Authorizes New Patrolman

City council acted under emergency rules Tuesday night to pass an ordinance adding a patrolman to the police force and to pass a temporary appropriation of $94,020.17 to meet operating expenses until March 31.

The temporary measure is simply a legal protection for council until actual 1947 budget figures are received from the county auditor's office in March.

Council voted to add one patrolman to the police force at a starting salary of $194 per month for the first six months and $205 per month thereafter.

The addition will bring the force to five patrolmen, a night captain and the chief of police.

Council had previously indicated that one or two more patrolmen would be added after the parking meters have been installed.

Eligibles Are Reviewed
Roy Harris, civil service commission clerk, said today that a standing list of eligibles for the force appointment will be reviewed immediately and the three highest men on the list certified to Safety Director C. E. Phillips for appointment.

At the present time, a check-up showed, men having taken the police examination and their grades are: Clifford Todd 100; Robert Kirchgessner 96; William and Delmar Hamacher 84 each; Richard McArthur and Edward Mathews 70 each.

Appointment is expected as soon as the certification of three men is made to the safety director.

CRASH KILLS 3 OF PLANE CREW

(By Associated Press) DAYTON, Jan. 15.—A Flying Fortress crashed in a woods three miles from a Patterson field landing strip last night, killing three members of its crew and critically injuring a fourth.

At Wright field, where the crew was stationed, officers identified the dead as Maj. Walter L. Massengill of Dayton, pilot; Warrant Officer Benedict P. Jacquay of nearby Osborn, and Master Sgt. Lee P. Hartman, engineer.

Lieut. Marvin C. Rice, co-pilot, was in critical condition at Patterson field hospital with severe lacerations and probable internal injuries.

The B-17 bomber made a routine test flight to Fort Benning, Ga., yesterday and was returning from Lawson field when it crashed at 6:10 p. m., Wright field reported.

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 15.—Seven-year-old Carolyn Holeston, who disappeared Jan. 7, was back home today with a bullet wound in her arm and a story that a 26-year-old man forced her under threat of death to accompany him for a week.

The youth, registered as Lester Bowman, was in jail, and Chief of Detectives John Smith said he would be charged with shooting to kill and contributing to the girl's delinquency.

Miss Holeston, whose father is foreman at a steel mill, said Bowman shot her when she resisted his marriage proposal and tried to leave him, Smith reported.

Goal Is To Have New Bill Ready March 1, Sen. Taft Says

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) announced today that the senate labor committee would open a "consolidated hearing" on all pending labor proposals Jan. 23. The goal is to have some legislation ready about March 1, he said.

The Ohio senator told reporters the hearing would first touch upon the comprehensive labor bill offered jointly by himself and Senators Ball (R-Minn.) and Smith (R-N.J.) and a proposal by Senator Murray (D-Mont.) and eight other Democrats for an overall study of labor problems by a commission composed of congressmen and public representatives named by the President.

Then, Taft continued, the hearing will consider "all other bills and resolutions having the object of reducing industrial strife in the United States."

Included In Review
Taft said this would include:
1. All bills dealing with organization and responsibility of labor unions.
2. Proposals for labor courts and compulsory arbitration.
3. Proposals for mediation and conciliation.
4. Proposals regarding the closed shop and nationwide collective bargaining.
5. Bill's amending the National Labor Relations Act.

Another senate group got down to business today on one phase of labor legislation. A judiciary subcommittee headed by Senator Donnell (R-Mo.), began hearings on portal-to-portal pay.

The first witness, Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), author of a bill that would wipe out most of the $4,000,000 in lawsuits filed by unions for back pay to cover time spent in walking between plant gates and work benches.

Yesterday, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach provided a preview—But only in part—of the testimony he would give whenever the senate and house labor committees ask for his opinions.

Upholds Conciliation Service
At a news conference, Schwellenbach said:
He would cooperate with congress in any efforts to minimize labor strife.

He won't go up to Capitol Hill just to "say no to everything."
But he most positively would oppose any bill to create a mediation board or any kind of board, either inside or outside of the Labor department, to replace his U. S. Conciliation Service. He said that service had done a good job despite difficulties.

Several major bills would create just such a board as Schwellenbach dislikes—including the Ball-Taft-Smith bill introduced by Senators Ball (R-Minn.), Taft, and H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), and the new case bill introduced by Rep. Francis Case (R-SD).

The secretary approved all the proposals made by President Truman to congress—for a 20-man labor investigating commission and for banning some jurisdictional strikes, for example. Schwellenbach said he also might approve some proposals not made by the President.

But he wouldn't talk about those yet. He still is studying the bills.

Council's committee is expected to consider the report in conjunction with the manufacturers and make a report as soon as possible.

Urban Blight

The best known characteristics of American cities—far better known than their park systems, public buildings, or high-class residential districts—is urban blight.

This may not be a slum in all cases but merely an area in which healthy growth for one reason or another has been arrested. In the usual sense of the word, slum means deterioration of property.

In any event, the result is that a city is handicapped by the presence of an area which handicaps its proper growth. The American Society of Planning Officials recently made a survey of these conditions and steps being taken to improve them. It found that Chicago, Detroit, Indianapolis, Providence, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Milwaukee all have programs under way.

Many new ideas are being applied to solving the problem—and every city has it, to some degree. One of the ideas is to clear blighted land by public action and public funds and thereafter to turn it over to private enterprise for redevelopment under arrangements giving back government its original investment, plus interest, plus assurance of higher tax revenues from the salvaged areas. Another is a means of measuring municipal blight on a comparative basis, to show where and when it is necessary to undertake redevelopment. A common tendency in all plans for redevelopment is to include provisions for adequate parks and schools, as insurance against recurrence of blight.

Most cities grew haphazardly, which accounts for the fact that their blighted areas frequently are situated in what should be some of their most valuable land. But it is the nature of the blight itself that, once it occurs, it cannot be eradicated except by the most drastic means. The American Society of Planning Officials finds reason to believe these means are being found, under the tested rule that necessity is the mother of invention.

Public Welfare First

British union leaders are furious because their own Labor government has refused to let striking truck drivers spread public suffering; it has called out the armed services. The leaders feel this is a betrayal.

They'd be entranced with the brief filed in the U. S. Supreme Court by John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers on the charges growing out of last November's coal strike. In this document, the union and its chief say the United States had no right to intervene in the strike to stop the spread of public suffering. Intervention was contrary to law. It was an "abject surrender to political expediency." The Mine Workers' brief says this "hardly savors of that degree of consistency which citizens of this country have every right to expect from highly placed public officers in the Department of Justice."

This line of argument suggests that lawyers combed the records to prove that neither the union nor John Lewis could be touched for calling a strike, not because the strike was right but because there was no precedent for doing anything to stop it. The whole thing depended, in other words, on the claim that government could not protect a majority of its citizens from the actions of a small minority.

In the showdown, government favored the majority interest. Mr. Lewis was furious. He had been betrayed. Before him, A. F. Whitney, who had been leading a railroad strike, was betrayed, too. Expediency dictated a decision not to have a railroad strike. In Britain, expediency is dictating a decision not to let a handful of truck drivers cause needless suffering. It must be dawning on some of the brighter union bosses by this time that public welfare comes first.

Slight Discrepancy

Something more conspicuous than his new mustache now adorns the minority leader of the U. S. Senate, Alben Barkley of Kentucky. Writing in last Sunday's New York Times magazine, Senator Barkley recalls a speech a year ago in which he said an annual federal budget of 25 billion would be large enough, after war and postwar expenditures had been eliminated.

Senator Barkley, seasoned by 10 years' experience as Democratic leader in the upper house of Congress, sees no reason to swallow his prediction. Coming from his party's faithful spokesman in Congress, it suggests more than a slight discrepancy between the White House and congressional Democrats. It gives a false ring to the plaintive cries of those Democrats who are insisting that President Truman's 1948 budget estimate of 37 1/2 billion is an absolute minimum. Senator Barkley doesn't think so.

No Republican has gone as far as he has gone in suggesting shrinkage. The senator from Kentucky can be sure that in the months ahead he will become one of the most quoted Americans alive.

The Subterranean Era

In an outburst which will be quoted by I-told-you-so speakers if atomic warfare occurs, Robert Wood Johnson, former vice chairman of WPB and a retired army general, says private industry should plan now to move important factories underground.

The subterranean era which many observers say must follow the atomic bomb as surely as dispersal of industry followed the long-range airplane is with us now, warns Mr. Johnson, chairman of Johnson & Johnson. "This job calls for civilian leadership. Who will protect America if we do not?"

Mr. Johnson is not going to see industry go underground behind civilian leadership. His warning that trouble and possibly disaster will follow neglect to do this in advance of war will be disregarded—and for this simple reason.

Public opinion in the United States is under a terrific handicap in grasping the implications of the atomic age. Americans cannot believe what happened to cities in Europe and Asia under aerial bombardment, because it did not happen to their cities. To this day, most Americans continue to be amused by what they considered to be the somehow funny precautions of their own government to avert panic among urban populations in case of aerial attack during the late war. Not one American in 100 will believe atomic destruction can happen in this country, until—and unless—it happens. And if it does happen, the skeptical 99 will be the first to demand protection instant and curse the powers that be for a state of unpreparedness.

The Stars Say
For Thursday, January 16

INTERESTING planetary configurations point to a program of new interests, affecting career, fresh objectives, with much of an expansive and eventful nature in finances, business and purely personal ambitions. In fact, the personal element is destined to figure in all plans and purposes, with happy contacts with those in high places and power. Approach these with definite and well-organized plans, and suppress instincts to the showy, exaggerated and extravagant in funds, energies, and speech.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of change, with fresh interests and associations, in which personal appeal may bring about pleasant relations with those in influential positions. Such may be impressed by ability, efficiency and by reasonable and practical plans and propositions and not by exaggeration, and extravagance in word, acts and assets generally. Prudence, economy and sound objectives may thrive with change and new plans of action.

A child born on this day may have a capable and constructive equipment, with high ambitions and enterprise, but may defeat its best interests by exaggerated speech and ideas and by want of logic, prudence and thrift.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

New Method of Diagnosing Cancer

By HERMAN N. BUNDSEN, M.D.
AGAIN and again in these articles I have pointed out that the cancer victim's best hope lies in early diagnosis and treatment. From the doctor's point of view, this is not at all a simple matter.

You will readily understand why if you remember that while all cancers are essentially masses of wildly-growing cells, these cells differ in their make-up. Until the doctor knows exactly what type of cancer is present, he will not be able to decide as to the most suitable form of treatment.

Now, the only way to make a definite diagnosis of cancer, as well as to determine the kind of cancer present, is to examine a small bit of the growth under the microscope.

Formerly, this was done by surgical operation but now a new and less dangerous method is used for obtaining this necessary bit of tissue for microscopic examination. It is called aspiration biopsy, which means a bit of tissue is removed by sucking it out.

As a rule the procedure is not difficult to carry out, and patients will not object to it. It can be performed with a minimum of discomfort.

A Large Needle
In carrying out the procedure a large needle and hypodermic syringe are employed. The skin over the area where the growth is located is anesthetized or "deadened" with the proper solution and the needle is passed through the tissue into the growth.

Enough of the material from the tumor may then be drawn up into the syringe, placed on a glass slide and stained for examination under the microscope.

A tumor growing in the nasal sinus known as the antrum can be aspirated quite successfully. Tumors of the salivary glands, such as the parotid gland which is located just in front of the ear, also may be successfully aspirated.

In some tumors of the lower jawbone, the X-ray examination may not permit of a definite diagnosis. In such cases aspiration may be tried.

Cause of Enlargement
One of the difficult problems often facing a physician is to tell the cause of enlargement of the lymph glands in the neck. Now there are many causes for enlargement of these glands.

Among the less frequent causes are that cancer cells are brought in from other parts of the body, such as the breathing organs, the stomach, or the kidney.

Such conditions as tuberculosis and leukemia may also produce enlargement of these glands. Aspiration of the enlarged glands will make a definite diagnosis possible in practically all instances.

In the case of cancer of the breast, when the growth has progressed far enough, diagnosis is not difficult.

However, in the early stages when the chances for cure are the best, it is not easy to tell just what type of growth may be in the breast. Aspiration and examination of the tissue makes a quick diagnosis, and the immediate institution of the proper treatment, possible.

Letters to Dr. Bundsen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Editor The News:
I believe the people of Salem are for a field house. In this case, why not build one at the Memorial building?

They could enlarge the sides on Water st., the A & P. and back, by the alley. In this way they could change the floor plan and have the court north and south, instead of east and west.

In extending the sides they could have room for quite a few bleachers. Also they could tear out the wall north and build a seating space, above where the new basket would be.

A rafting could be built in rectangular form around the regular court, about four feet from the actual playing court. The court width could be between 42 and 50 feet, while the length could be between 78 and 99 feet.

It could be made possible so the seating capacity could be between 1800 and 2500. This would make an excellent court for tournaments also.

The field house would pay for itself in a few years. Every year basketball draws more people. We have a top-notch team—one of the state's best—but we have nothing to offer them but a "dings" old 4 x 6 stuffy cigar box.

As soon as Salem loses a game—which I hope they do not—fans will crab and gripe about how bad the team is, but 100 to one chances are that they will be beaten on a larger floor than our own.

We definitely need a good floor and we're going to get it or some of the Salem people will be pretty sorry a few years from now.

My idea is built it now, while there is work and some material, not when work is scarce and material is priceless.

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

- ✓ STOMACH GAS
- ✓ SOUR FOOD TASTE
- ✓ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance.

This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also SSS Tonic helps build-up

Winner, Second National A.A.A. Traffic Safety Poster Contest

The pedestrian who adheres strictly to the rule CROSS ONLY AT CORNERS increases his chance of living longer by more than 30 per cent. A. P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor club, said today in announcing distribution to schools here of the January AAA School traffic safety posters and lesson units which emphasize the need to CROSS ONLY AT CORNERS.

The poster, drawn by Stanley Jenkins, age 16, of Scott High School, Coatesville, Pa., was a first prize winner in the second National AAA Traffic Safety Poster contest. "In cities, more than one in three and in rural areas, slightly less than one in three, pedestrians met their death while crossing between intersections last year," Morris said. "Those who do cross at intersections are not as careful as the fact that one in four city pedestrian fatalities occurred at intersections which had no traffic signals."

DIMES MARCH ON!

Funds provided by the March of Dimes have advanced knowledge of infantile paralysis at least 100 years.

It was estimated today by William Spenseller who is heading the 1947 March of Dimes here Jan. 15 to 30.

"While much was done before the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis appeared on the scene," he said, "it was this organization, spark-plugged with March of Dimes funds, that first made available huge sums for research. This has speeded up research to a degree which can only be described as remarkable."

Research is only one phase of the work done by the National Foundation. Provision of the best available care for any person stricken by the disease, regardless of age, creed, color or race, until maximum recovery is assured, and a widespread education campaign are two other phases financed by March of Dimes funds.

Quakers Capture Seventh In A Row Over Ravenna 49 to 21

Millermen Win Easily As Defense Clicks; Martinelli Hits For 16-Point Total

Chalking up Victory No. 7 was an easy task for Bob Miller's Salem Quakers Tuesday night as they romped merrily over a completely impotent Ravenna five 49-21 before about 1,500 fans.

It was a big evening for the captain and floor general, Tony Martinelli, who racked up eight baskets in his first real scoring spree of the season. His 16 point total was made on an amazing shot percentage. He hit eight of 16 shots, cashing in for 12 of the points in the first half.

The Quakers stepped into an early 5-0 lead in the first two minutes and added six to lead 11-0 at the first quarter, then limited the Ravens to a single field goal and a pair of fouls to lead 25-10 at halftime.

The wild-shooting Ravens couldn't hit in the third and scored only a lone foul while Salem racked up 12 points.

In all, Ravenna hit only five field goals and added 11 points on fouls.

While Martinelli was stealing the scoring show for the evening, big Bob Miller hit for 12 points, slightly below average, and Francis Lanney came through with his usual 10.

Coach Miller at last had an opportunity to try out his varsity substitutes and inserted Pete Cain and Carl Ciccozzi in the second quarter

SHOT BOX	FG's	Shots
Martinelli	8	16
Pager	4	10
Lanney	4	13
Kelly	1	2
Faulkner	1	4
Ciccozzi	0	1
Bozich	0	1
Miner	0	1
Mercer	0	3
Cain	0	3
Laughlin	0	4

and Mo Mercer, Tommy Miner, Wilford "Biggie" Faulkner and Eddie Bozich in the fourth.

Ciccozzi, who saw the most action, showed up well and despite several misses played a neat floor game. All the subs but Bozich, Miner and Cain hit the hoop for at least a point.

Coach Don Vance's charges were literally beaten by Martinelli who hit six of nine shots in the first half as Salem got seven points. Kelly and Pager three each through the rather loose Ravenna zone defense.

Salem's man-to-man was exceptionally effective last night and once again the opponent was forced to fire shots from mostly uncomfortable angles.

The Ravens hit but five of 35

Eliot, Bixler to Coach North-South Grid Game

CANTON, Jan. 15.—Ray Eliot, coach of Illinois university's Western Conference football champions and Rose Bowl victors, and Paul Bixler, head coach at Ohio State university will tutor Ohio scholastic stars in the second annual North-South game to be played here in August, Jesse H. Mason, superintendent of Canton public schools, announced today.

Reserves Win Over Ravenna In Prelim

Bouncing back after a two game losing streak, the Salem High Reserves topped a larger Ravenna sub squad by a lopsided 43-19 count at the local gym Friday night in the prelim.

"Bullet Ed" Bozich found the range for 15 points to pace the Quakers. "Biggie" Faulkner was next with 12 while Bobby Campbell, back from a sick spell, netted six.

Salem held a 22-7 lead at the half, were held even in the third and accumulated a 12-3 margin in the final stanza.

Every player on the Quaker bench saw action in the one-sided tilt.

ROCKETS ESTABLISH RECORD ON LOSSES

Are Shooting for All-Time Low—A Dubious Honor In Hockey Battle

(By Associated Press) The Philadelphia Rockets are well on their way toward establishing two American Hockey league records—both of somewhat doubtful distinction.

Resuming action this season after a four-year layoff, the Rockets have won only three games and tied four in 39 starts and should they drop ten more decisions in their remaining 25 games, they will establish a new record for most games lost in a single season. The Rockets set the old mark of 41 games lost during the 1941-42 season.

The Rockets, who tangle with eastern division leading Hershey Bears tonight in one of the circuit's four games, also are within easy hailing distance of creating a new mark for most goals allowed in a single campaign.

Enemy puckchasers have drilled 263 goals past Rocket netminders, nine less than record 272 that penetrated the nets of the now inactive Washington club during the 1942-43 season.

In tonight's other games, the St. Louis Flyers battle the pace-setting western division Cleveland Barons at Cleveland, the Pittsburgh Pirates meet the Indians at Springfield and the Indianapolis Capitals clash with the Bisons at Buffalo.

REVIEWING MINOR EVENTS IN 1946 SPORTS PROGRAM

BY FRANK ECK
While baseball, football, basketball, golf, tennis and racing enjoyed a boom year in 1946, many minor sports and feature events, held idle by war years, returned to the scene.

Among them were the 500-mile Indianapolis auto race, the Bermuda yacht race, bob sledding on the dangerous one-mile Mount Van Hoevenberg run at Lake Placid, in international polo, the National Horse Show and the Westminster Kennel Club dog show.

Here's the alphabetical run-down in some of the minor sports, including a few that are big time.

AUTO RACING—George Robson of Los Angeles won the 500-mile Memorial day race at Indianapolis but three months later he was killed with George Barringer at Atlanta.

BAZMINGTON—Carl Loveday triumphed in the singles and paired with Ken Quigley to take the doubles in the nationals at Buffalo.

BILLIARDS—Irving Crane of Livonia, N. Y., dethroned Willie Mosconi as pocket billiards champion, while Welson Cochran retained the three cushion and 182 ballline crowns and the "Boy Wonder," Willie Hoppe, kept the 181 ballline.

BOATING—Guy Lombardo won the national sweepstakes regatta in his Tempo VI. A. H. Fuller's 57-foot sloop Gesture won the 635-mile Newport to Bermuda yacht race on corrected time. H. C. Taylor's Barruna was first but was shunted to third on handicap. Mrs. B. V. Henry's Good News finished second.

BOB SLEDDING—Driver Tufffield Latsar piloted the two-man Saranac Lake Bobsled club to victory in the North American championships at Lake Placid while William Linney steered the Republic Miners B. C. to the four-man crown.

In the juniors, Stanley Benham and Howard Crossett of Lake Placid won two-man honors while Benham piloted the home club to the four-man title.

BOWLING—Leo Rollick of Santa Monica, Calif., rolled 300 during a doubles match in the ABC tourney at Buffalo. A week later he took the singles crown. Joe Wilman of Chicago won the all-events.

CHESS—Mikhail Botvinnik of Russia captured the master's invitational tourney in Holland. The U. S. championships went to Samuel Reshevsky and Miss N. May Karff.

Leetonia Loses One To Sebring 37-53

Leetonia's Bears dropped their sixth decision in seven starts Friday night at Leetonia by a 37-53 score, despite the fact that the home team led 16-13 at halftime.

The Bulldogs from Sebring turned on the head in the last two periods, to outscore the Bears 24-17.

Ed Sullivan led the losers with 12 points, while Sam Stumpo and Ed Rutzy followed with eight. Watson was high for Sebring with nine points.

Sebring walked off with the reserve tilt 46-8.

Legion Wins Over New Waterford Five

Getting back into the win column again after a defeat at Columbiana last week, Salem's American Legion team took a 65-49 decision over the New Waterford Legionnaires Monday night on the loser's floor.

The Salemites held a 30-23 lead at halftime and increased it by nine during the final two periods.

Ray McGaffie once again paced the locals with nine field goals and three free throws. Bill Schaeffer collected 10.

Second Guessing

By DON E. BEATTIE
News Sports Editor

ANYONE WHO HAS SEEN the Warren Harding Presidents in action especially against undefeated Canton McKinley, can safely expect a terrific basketball game when the Presidents arrive here Friday night to meet Bob Miller's undefeated Quakers.

Warren, without a really tall player, has the usual fast-breaking, tight defensive team that annually is produced by short, partially bald Coach Dwight Lafferty.

Despite the Warren power and a brilliant show against McKinley last Saturday, Salem probably has the stuff to measure the Presidents for the eighth straight win.

Warren lost its second ball game to McKinley Saturday, 37-25, but gave the Bulldogs a plenty tough time in the process. The Presidents, however, racked up another victory Tuesday night over Youngstown Chaney.

IMBURGIA THE LEADER
WARREN IS LED by Larry Imburgia, 6-1 Senior, who is one of the district's leading scorers, averaging about 16 points a game. He undoubtedly will be stacked up against Eob Pager at the center position.

Imburgia, who played against Pager last season and out-scored him by one point, 7-6, is a talented defensive rebounder and goes up after the ball with perfect timing and amazing speed. He wears the No. 19 jersey. He scored 15 Saturday.

EDDIE BEVAN, a slight 5-11 Senior and second high scorer, fills one of the starting forward positions with agility that netted him a 12-point total against the Bulldogs Saturday.

Bevan, though not tall and a comparatively slim forward, is one of the President's key men and is a good ball handler and dribbler. Bevan filled a substitute position here last season, when Warren won 43-30.

ALTERNATES MEN OFTEN
BILL WEAVER, 6-foot forward, generally draws the starting assignment in Coach Lafferty's outfit, but often is relieved by Bill Henkel another lad about 6-foot, or Don Robinson, who alternates at the forward and guard position.

JACK ROBINSON, 6-2 and a brother of Don, generally starts at a guard with his brother in the other position.

DON ROBINSON, a Junior and a close replica of Salem's Martin "Butch" Roth of last year's varsity, flashes about the floor with confusing speed.

He is used as a starter at guard by Lafferty, but is replaced often by Henkel, who generally plays the major portion of the games.

GAVE MCKINLEY TROUBLE
WARREN DISPLAYED a potent offense against McKinley Saturday but was finally stopped after leading most of the third quarter by the calm pressing defense put up by the sharp-shooting McKinley outfit.

Warren was not exceptional in its shooting, hitting only 22 per cent against McKinley.
